APPLICATION DESCRIPTION

- ◆ 100 Boxes is a puzzle game. Your goal is to fill all the boxes in the 10x10 table. Rules are very simple: you can start from any box, but then if you move in horizontal or vertical direction, you have to leave two boxes blank; if you move in diagonal direction, you have to leave one box blank. Simple, isn't it? You'll find that solving the puzzle can be actually quite difficult...
- ◆ Full boxes show the numbers which they have been filled with: that is, number one for the box filled first, two for the second, and so on. Boxes that are accessible from the last filled box are yellow. In black and white devices, they show an 'X' sign. Inaccessible boxes are blank.
- ◆ If none of the boxes is accessible from the last selected box, you lose. If you fill all the 100 boxes, you win.
- ◆ Meaning of the menu commands:
  - New: start a new game
  - Undo Move: undo your latest move. You are not allowed to undo when you continue a 100 Boxes game after you have switched to the application launcher or to another application
  - Help: it shows a brief help summarizing the rules
  - About: it shows some information about the application and its author

I hope I will be able to answer everyone. As I am a hobbyist programmer, however, it is not sure that I will have the possibility to produce new versions of this software. Moreover, I know English and Italian only, therefore please do not write me in other languages.

I hope you will have fun with this game!
