Card moving

To move a card or a pile of cards you should tap and drag it to a new place (without raising the stylus from the screen).

Quick card moving

You can also perform quick card moving. To do this, tap once a card or a pile of cards. The program will automatically move the card(s) to suitable positions. Sometimes there are several suitable positions to move the card(s) to and the program may use any of them. If you expected a card to be moved to another position, just tap this card again and it will be moved there automatically.

Complex card moving

- Let us take an example. While playing one of “Freecell” solitaires you want to move two cards (one after another) to suitable positions. In this case you should move the first (upper) card to a vacant position (free cell) in the top line first, the second card – to a position you want, and then the first card to a position you want.

The program can perform all this sequence of actions instead of you. Just tap the first card by the stylus.

- All cards can also be moved to suitable positions by tapping the menu item “Game>Collect all” or the button  .

Long piles of cards

If you have built up a long pile of cards on the screen, the long pile will be stacked into several layers so that last cards will be shown above first cards. To see cards placed under the upper layer you should tap the upper layer by stylus and it will move to the right for some time. Tap the moved aside card(s) again to move them back.

Game exit

To exit the game any time you wish, tap the button (x). The current game will be saved and will be restored when you start the game again.
